Dror Berkowitz’s diffusion collection for Target is all about collapsibility. An origami-foldable Bistro-like pencil case, a bedside table that folds flat, and this Stock bookcase, a set of nesting tables and a tower of shelves in one, $89.99. www.target.com

Rajboor, a new brand of bedding from New York designer Stephen Burka in collaboration with textile expert Mitus Cink. Destined to use a rare variety of silk—an eco-friendly silk in which the worm is allowed to live a full life after the silk has been extracted from the cocoon. Burka reworked traditional paisley patterns with patchwork, tapestry, and embroidery. (965) 410-4111 or www.rajboor.com

For his first collection with Casa & Gio, Harry Allen stacked crystal blocks to form an abstract vase and assembled them into the shape of the Turkish brand’s earlier mascot, Geo, shown here. www.geogio.com

I.D. June 2009
Dror for Target Bookcase

IT’S ALL REAL

THE INTERNATIONAL DESIGN MAGAZINE - Design+Business - Bloomberg’s New York - Branding with Sound - Marketing To